

In Washington
That Beautiful Monument
The President Hard at Work
What Mr. Mellon Remembers

By Arthur Brisbane
WASHINGTON, May 9.—
Beautiful weather in this Capital City, with a good deal of worry, not so beautiful. Here they are expected to correct and cure, overnight, industrial, financial, agricultural and employment ills that can be cured by time alone.
The city is beautiful and the new buildings that partially complete a great scheme of public improvement are well conceived, handsomely and efficiently constructed.
The Washington Monument, by far the most beautiful in the world, besides being a monument with the greatest meaning, is more beautiful than ever, with the light green of spring all about the slender white shaft.
The President, now in his working office, as he swings around at his desk in his oval chair, Secretary Mellon seated at a window at the right of his desk.
Add to one who has known the monument since General Grant, was President and the shaft unfinished, it seems more beautiful and impressive at each visit.
Pointing to the city, it reminds that this country has produced one man whose memory is forever unassailable, and whose wisdom in the foundation of national wisdom still lives.

The President is hard at work through long hours, taking on his shoulders, and much to beat, responsibility for conditions that are not of his creating.
He surely did not start the great war. And this depression is one of the war's by-products.
The United States is the rest of the world are now paying the price of war and their own folly.

Secretary Mellon, who works as though his family depended on what the government pays him, is not discouraged, about the business future, although he warns against hasty decisions.
He says and knows that where there is intelligence, power and opportunity, prosperity may vary, but cannot disappear.
He was a young man, interested in the oil business in a small way, all profit came from kerosene, which had been placed while oil in lamps.
He brought in a kerosene lamp and nearly everybody said
"The oil business is doomed."
With electricity, kerosene was burned kerosene. Then the automobile came, and gasoline.
Mr. Mellon used to sell by the carload for two and one-half cents a gallon in his little oil industry. Mr. Mellon is still in the oil business.

Mr. Mellon, who advises
President in leading ways, says President has done, with all his influence since the depression began, remembers was an older brother were building a railroad, 17 miles long, for his father, in a valley of the Pennsylvania mountains in the eighties, when he was depression and unemployment then. The Mellon brothers put at many men as possible from one end of the line to the other, be-laying tracks. But the number of men, standing on the top of the world, was greater than the number employed.
Many were discharged.
Mr. Mellon was not. He has continued building railroads and developing big industries. All those men on the small railroad, and men working in the mills and mines, were paid 60 cents a day. That was the regular wage then. Consider the change.

The world is wondering why it doesn't recover, why it takes so long. A sick man wonders why it takes so long to get well. He must patiently wait for him to undo the unwise things that he has done.
A student of past depression, all the way back to the beginning of the last century, may be comforted in the fact that of them, every one of them major depression has vanished and the way for prosperity, either in June or July, not in any other month.
The question is, will it be June or July, 1933, or 1934, or later?
Prosperity returns in one of the two months again, because these are the crop months. The winter wheat is in corn and other crops are sown. BILL-IONS OF NEW WHEAT
from the soil are in sight and it is a real wealth created by the farmers' hard work. No speculation there.

Fortunately for the nation the crop for this year, the best marvelously good, they have never been better.
A year ago conditions were promising, and a revival seemed about to start, but then came the drought and hope was deferred.
The Lord tempests the wind to the shore land. Some of us seen short crops pretty close since October, 1929. It is resulted on Page 3, Column 1

A RIOT OF FUN—POPEYE vs. TINEARO Round 2 In This Issue

'POISON PEN' CASE FROM DOCTOR

Roxbury Widow Burned to Death

BOSTON AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK
VOL. 28—No. 41
Published Daily by N. B. Newspaper Pub. Co.
BOSTON, SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1931
2 CENTS
SUNDAY 3 CENTS

LATE NEWS FLASHES
Race Results—Baseball Scores

DOGGERS LEAD PHILS IN 1ST GAME

Brooklyn 3 0 1 0 4 0 0
Philadelphia 0 0 1 0 0 1 0
Batteries—Luque, Lopez; J. Elliott; Scheller, McCurdy

MAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN HARBOR

With both feet missing, the body of an unidentified man, about 40 years old, was found floating in the harbor near Simpson's drydock, East Boston, today, by Capt. J. D. Sullivan of the tugboat Peterson.

BANKER'S HOME AT DENNISPORT BURNS

Dennisport, May 9 (AP)—Fire today swept the summer home of Weller H. Noyes, president of the First National Bank at Tenafly, N. J., and former president of the Swift Packing Co. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

WEATHY WIDOW MISSING FROM SHIP

San Diego, Cal., May 9 (INS)—Mrs. Therese Goerke, wealthy New York widow, was missing from her steam room under mysterious circumstances today when the Panama-Pacific liner Pennsylvania docked here today.

10 NEW BOSTON FIREMEN APPOINTED

Ten new men were appointed to active duty in the Boston fire department following the customary probationary period, to take effect Monday. They are Harold W. Bailey, Frank J. Parkes, Leo M. Myott, John M. Carroll, Clarence A. Knight, Thomas F. Mehan, Edmund H. Wright, Edwin I. Clarke, William A. Terenzi and John J. Martin. Training of 23 firemen will also take place Monday.

AMNESIA VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

The amnesia victim at City Hospital recovered sufficiently today to tell doctors he was John McGrail, 26, of 40 Isabella st., South End. He was found at Boylston and Berkeley sts., Thursday, by Patrolmen Adair and Willis, who noticed him wandering as if in a daze.

GIRL SHOT DEAD REHEARSAL PLAY

Quincy, Ill., May 9 (INS)—Mildred Hughes, 19, was shot dead while rehearsing a play at a local church last night. In the "play" Robert Randall, 19, was "supposed" to shoot his erring lover, and he did.

QUINCY SPEEDERS MAY FACE $50 FINE

Adoption of a resolution to make mandatory a $50 fine for auto speeding in Quincy will be asked by William M. Edmonston, chairman of the city council traffic committee, at a meeting on Monday.

HEAVY QUAKE IN HERZEGOVINA

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, May 9 (AP)—A violent earth shock was reported today to have occurred in Visegrad, Herzegovina, last night. The population was terrified, but no casualties or damage was reported.

BANDITS BLINDFOLD 5, ROB BANK

Pasadena, Cal., May 9 (INS)—Binding and blindfolding five employees, including two women, two bandits today robbed the Fair Oaks branch of the Pasadena National Bank of nearly $12,000.

FATHER OF 11, OUT OF WORK, ENDS LIFE

Easthampton, May 9 (INS)—Out of work nearly two years and completely discouraged, Florian Rogalski, a textile mill worker, father of 11 children, committed suicide in his home here today by inhaling illuminating gas, according to police.

SOVIET EXILES 45 ECONOMISTS

Riga, May 9 (INS)—Forty-five eminent Soviet economists, professors and statisticians have been ordered exiled to distant parts of Soviet Russia on charges of counter-revolution and sabotage, it was learned today from travelers crossing the Soviet border. Ten others were reported to have been shot.

RACE RESULTS AT JAMAICA

(Race Selections and Scratchings on Page 12)
1—Winifred Ann 10-1, 3-1, 4-5; Stimpia 1-4, out; Skippy L 1-2

D. & M. FREIGHT SHAKES UP 50

WHEN 50 CHEATED DEATH IN RAIL CRASH

Tells of the Strange Actions of Man Who Thought That He Was Being Shadowed

A Cambridge doctor today supplied the first tangible clue to the writer of the poison pen letters, which, with back-ground of love and vodka, have rocked the Harvard faculty as nothing has since the split over the Sacco-Vanzetti death sentence.

Dr. David H. Gibson, who lives at 20 Ware st., in the university area, and has offices at 22 Royal ave., Cambridge, gave the clue in a telephone call to Dist. Atty. Warren L. Bishop.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

Dr. Gibson gave a description of a man, believed to be a member of the Harvard faculty, with whom he had a casual encounter at the Harvard campus, possibly the other man thought the physician was shadowing him, and grew greatly alarmed.

DO-X FAILS IN 'Never Heard of a Slump,' Says Morgan

New York, May 8 (INS)—"Don't know anything about any depression," said J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

That was the answer given today by J. P. Morgan when asked his opinion about world depression in trade.

He has just returned from Europe.

DEAF MAN RIDES TO HIS DEATH

Manchester, May 9 (AP)—Charles West, 84, married, of Beverly, was instantly killed today when the ice truck he was driving was struck by a Boston & Maine train at the intersection of the two roads.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

The truck was struck by the train, and the driver was killed.

ROXBURY WIDOW BURNS TO DEATH

Ms Mary J. Peterson, 41, a widow, was burned to death today when her clothing caught fire while she was in the kitchen of her home at 28 Alden st., Roxbury.

She was alone and from found lying crumpled in a corner.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Her clothing was caught fire, and she was burned to death.

Wife And Husband Catch Pickpockets

Stoughton, May 9 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Peterson, 41, a widow, were caught today when they were in the kitchen of their home at 28 Alden st., Roxbury.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

They were caught when they were in the kitchen of their home.

Georgetown Reports Severe Quake Shock

Washington, May 9 (INS)—The seismograph at Georgetown University recorded an earthquake of 5.60 S. M. today. The Ray, Dr. Fred A. Seely said the tremor was more severe than that which instrument made when an earthquake occurred at Managua, Nicaragua.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Dr. Seely estimated the shock occurred 200 miles from Washington.

Mothers Baby

Another Death in Pond

Worcester, May 8.—While her mother worked in the back yard of her home on Seely Island today, a two-year-old Marion Magnuson slipped away and was found in the waters of Indian Lake, across the street.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Mothers Baby

Another Death in Pond

Worcester, May 8.—While her mother worked in the back yard of her home on Seely Island today, a two-year-old Marion Magnuson slipped away and was found in the waters of Indian Lake, across the street.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Mothers Baby

Another Death in Pond

Worcester, May 8.—While her mother worked in the back yard of her home on Seely Island today, a two-year-old Marion Magnuson slipped away and was found in the waters of Indian Lake, across the street.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Her mother, Mrs. Roy Magnuson, took her from the shallow water. The child is in a serious condition. Memorial Hospital with symptoms of pneumonia.

Mothers Baby

Another Death in Pond

HATHAWAY COUNSEL ASKS BILL FOR PARTICULARS IN KILLING

JACOBS CLAIMS INDICTMENT IS 'TOO VAGUE'

Attorney for Youth in Nurse Murder Asks the State to Reveal Crime Motive

Providence, May 9.—The indictment against Elliott R. Hathaway, accused slayer of Miss Verna Russell of Portsmouth, R. I., is "too vague," according to Samuel J. Jacobs, counsel for the Fall River youth, who today asked for a bill of particulars.

Jacobs also charged that "force violent and pressure applied to a body" is not an indictable offense. The grand jury indictment was long and intricately worded in concurrence with Rhode Island laws.

It read:

VICTIM STRANGLER.

"The grand jury on oath present that Elliott R. Hathaway, alias John Doe, with force and arms at Providence, R. I., in and on Verna Eloise Russell, feloniously, wilfully and unlawfully, and with malice, did make an assault, and he said Elliott R. Hathaway, alias John Doe, then and there, feloniously and wilfully and of his malice aforethought, did choke and strangle said Verna Eloise Russell, and apply force violence and pressure on her body, and with intent to kill and murder said Verna Eloise Russell, and to the body of Verna Eloise Russell, then and there, feloniously, wilfully and unlawfully, and with malice aforethought, did kill and murder said Verna Eloise Russell against the peace and dignity of the State of Rhode Island."

"And so the grand jury says on their oath that Elliott R. Hathaway, in the manner aforesaid, feloniously, wilfully and unlawfully and of his malice aforethought, did kill and murder said Verna Eloise Russell against the peace and dignity of the State of Rhode Island."

"What place and spot in Providence was the girl killed? Was the crime committed in a house, or on a street, or in an automobile?"

"What time of the day or night was the force applied?"

"What was the motive?"

"Was it robbery, jealousy, malice, or spite, hatred, affection or passion?"

"Jacobs claims that indictment does not state specifically what part of the body Hathaway applied force."

"The general allegations are vague," he states.

Mothers' Day Tomorrow

MOTHER - BY WHISTLER

FATHER - BY ANY CARTOONIST

THE PAINTING BY WHISTLER OF HIS MOTHER HAS BEEN PRACTICALLY ADOPTED AS A FITTING SYMBOL OF MOTHERS' DAY.

BUT NOBODY WHO DRAWS FATHER EVER GIVES HIM A MOUTH. SEVERAL BREAK THIS

THOUGHTS OF MOTHER ARE ALWAYS ASSOCIATED WITH LOVE AND DEARNESS. AN FATHER IS GENERALLY ALLIED WITH PRIDE AND A CLEARER VIEW. SCREENS CIGARS ASHES AND LIKE TOO BAD MOTHER NEVER MADE A FATHER PAINTING

MOVE TO QUASH INDICTMENTS

Counsel for several defendants in the court action against the New England Investors Shares, Inc., today asked in Superior Criminal Court that indictments against their clients be quashed.

The motion was based on a statement of Asst. Atty.-Gen. Louis H. Sawyer that evidence presented in the grand jury did not justify the indictment of two of the defendants, James M. Swift, former attorney-general, and Edmund H. Talbot, Boston attorney.

Judge Harold P. Williams continued the hearing until next Saturday and indicated he would not allow members of the grand jury to testify.

Brainfree Police Case Up for Hearing

The full board of the Civil Service commission will hold a hearing next Wednesday on the petition of 32 taxpayers of Braintree who seek cancellation of a Civil Service examination granted for deputy police chief of that town.

The petition states there is no appropriation for the office, no security for the town, and that it would create an unnecessary burden on taxpayers who have not voted for such an office.

Mother's Day Plea Issued by Gov. Ely

As a fitting observance of Mother's Day, Governor Ely in a statement issued today urged that the celebration this year should lend itself insofar as possible to the practical alleviation of distress caused by unemployment.

Generally, he pointed out, Mother's Day is characterized by a display of flags and by the wearing of a flower "emblematic of the purity of life and spirit so indicative of the mothers of the nation."

The domestic help problem is not being taken a systematic approach and the fact that mothers are advised to pay for the help is mentioned.

High Roads of Europe Just Ahead

MISS MARY E. CURLEY, MAYOR CURLEY, MISS LORETTA BRENNER, EDWARD L. POLAK, A trip through Ireland, England, France and Spain, fiancée of the mayor's late son, James Italy was ahead of Mayor Curley, his daughter, Mary E. Curley, City Treasurer Edmund L. Dolan and Miss Loretta Brenner of Chicago.

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

WOMEN, 6 MEN FACE TRIAL FOR FLOGGING

Gang Is Held After Abduction of a St. Petersburg Man; Woman Used as Decoy

Clearwater, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Another effort to break up an alleged gang of professional floggers operating in the Tampa and St. Petersburg area was under way today, with the State preparing to try six men and a woman next Tuesday on charges of kidnapping and whipping R. W. Oxford of St. Petersburg.

A grand jury here indicted the seven yesterday. Three of them, Paul Nolan, grocer; R. B. Bachelder, carpenter; and Robert Letellier, proprietor of an automobile wrecking yard, all of St. Petersburg, pleaded not guilty and were released under $3000 bond last night.

Wilbur C. Mills, Tampa salesman; Harry Harbo and Ben Chonello, Tampa, mechanics; and Mrs. Alice Henderson Woods, also of Tampa, previously had been released on bail after guilty pleas of the men under $5000 each and the woman under $500. The woman is charged with having decoyed Oxford into the car which was alleged to have been abducted.

The authorities indicated they would charge Mills with kidnapping. During the past two years there have been a half dozen floggings in the area of the indictment, but no convictions thus far.

The authorities said the Oxford case and subsequent developments "indicated the existence of a gang which operated in business-like fashion, whipping anyone pointed out on the payment of a sufficient sum."

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Charles A. Lindbergh and who had been reported as the "Eagle's" choice before his engagement to her sister was announced, is to be a bride, too, it was learned today. She is to wed Rev. C. H. Roddy, a widower, New Jersey reports said.

MORROW GIRL IS TOWED PASTOR

Englewood, N. J., May 9.—Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and once thought to be the intended bride of the eagle, is reportedly engaged to Rev. Clyde H. Roddy, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, North Arlington, N. J.

The clergyman is a widower. His first wife died three weeks after their marriage, a victim of apoplexy, while they were still on their honeymoon.

"The announcement should come from the Morrow family," he said, when asked if the report was true, refusing to say anything more about it.

His demerol indicated that it was true, and that Miss Morrow would soon be installed as housewife in the trim little cottage which was planned for another bride.

At the height of his fame, Col. Lindbergh was persistently engaged to Elizabeth Morrow. He had visited her father, then ambassador to Mexico, and had come to know the entire family well.

Returning from abroad, Miss Morrow was asked about it point blank by reporters and was about to reply when J. P. Morgan, the banker, who with her was present, intervened.

King, Queen Back at Buckingham Palace

London, May 9 (AP)—King George and Queen Mary returned today to Buckingham Palace from Windsor Castle, where they had been since early April during the King's convalescence from an attack of bronchitis. A crowd at the palace gate cheered as they drove in.

TRAIL WRECK AT LOWELL JCT.

Continued From First Page

in for ambulances and doctors, as the crash proved not as serious as first reported.

Failure of the brakes of the passenger train to hold, caused the accident, according to Fred St. John, engineer.

The leap on the line caused the re-routing of the Flying Yankee, the road's crash train between Boston and Portland, over the eastern division via Salem and Newburyport.

The passengers on the Lawrence to Boston train, a local, which left Lawrence at 8:05 daylight saving time and was due at the North Station at 9:30, were transferred to a fleet of motor coaches hurriedly sent to the scene by railroad officials.

The wreck occurred as the freight train, which was bound from Mechanicville, N. Y., to Lawrence, swung on to the main line at the junction. It had not quite cleared the southbound rails when the locomotive of the passenger train plowed into it.

The passenger train was going between 20 and 30 miles an hour and the three freight cars were badly smashed, wreckage of the cars and their cargoes being scattered over the roadbed.

Wreckers were dispatched to clear the line. One side of the passenger locomotive was damaged, but Fred Rogers, the engineer, was able to take it to Boston under its own power.

Fred Rogers was conductor of the passenger train. The engineer of the freight train was J. J. McConductor was S. Card.

Engaged to Wed

SIX MILLION RING OF DIAMONDS ROUNDED UP

Six Also Acquired of 80 Bank Robberies Are Trapped by Tapping Phone Wires

Chicago, May 9 (AP)—The authorities again have struck at gangland—this time to capture, they claimed, a gang of six kidnapers and bank robbers whose loot and ransom money ran into the millions, including $200,000 taken in the Denver Mint holdup of 1922.

Their proceeds were estimated at $2,000,000, of which $1,000,000 was fixed as ransom money, in kidnaping.

The six were caught in a spectacular raid on a "gangster flat" in downtown East St. Louis, Ill., yesterday, as the result of the combined efforts of federal, state and local authorities. An hour later the prisoners were started under heavy guard on nine automobiles toward Chicago.

LINKED WITH BARRY MORRIS

Fed by police to be remnants of the Chicago and Shelton gangs of southern Illinois and have been affiliated with the "mob" of southern Illinois since 1922.

The gang were accused of participation in more than 60 bank robberies in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, including the theft of $250,000 from the Lincoln National Bank September 17, 1930.

The gang were also alleged to have killed the slaying of Mrs. Clara Garrison, wife of Clyde Garrison, Peoria, Ill., gambler; the killing of Thomas J. Rooney, Chicago labor leader; and the kidnaping of Fred J. Blumer, Monroe, Wis., near-shore, James Earl Ray, who said he paid $150,000 for his entire fortune for his release.

NATION WIDE HUNT

The names of the six were given as Tommy Hays, Thomas O'Connor, Jack Britt, Howard Lee, E. Hawks and William McQuillan. Among the robberies attributed to the gang were holdups committed in Mandelino, Clearing, Elmhurst, LaSalle, Neponset and Marcus, Ill., and Walworth and Bristol.

The gang were accused of a nationwide search and more than eight months of intensive investigation, initiated by the Postal Department. Telephone calls, overheard by investigators, made between members of the gang in East St. Louis and Chicago, calling the "branch" together for a "board meeting" was said by the police to have been the immediate cause of the arrest.

PARLEY HELD ON VAUGHAN CASE

The tangled affairs of Guy L. Vaughn, mining bank receiver, were the subject of a conference today between Frederick D. Bantier, Vaughn's successor, and Asst. Atty. Gen. J. Murphy, who were marshaling evidence for presentation to the grand jury Monday.

Francis P. Kirk, head of an accounting firm which is examining the missing receiver's accounts, was also a party to the conference.

Vaughn is a fugitive from a warrant charging him with five counts of larceny involving $20,800.

Jefferson A. Dean Dies in Shrewsbury

Shrewsbury, May 9 (AP)—Jefferson A. Dean, 81, died here today after an illness of several weeks. He was a lineal descendant of James Dean of Oakham, a Revolutionary War hero, and was the last of several brothers in one of the prominent families of the town.

SAVED FROM POISON DEATH

Very sorry. Cannot appear. I have been charged with obtaining a passport for your son, but I hope you will have the success you desire.

The manager said the refusal to appear was unprecedented. Chaplin is still in Berlin; stated at Bill.

Johnson Freed in Haverhill Court

Haverhill, May 9.—Simon Johnson, former Congress broker, was today released from the Lawrence jail when Judge John J. Winn, in District Court, dismissed one complaint and found no probable cause on the other charge for holding Johnson for the grand jury.

Three weeks ago Johnson was arrested, charged with obtaining a passport fraudulently in July, 1930, the signature of former Mayor Albert L. Bartlett of Haverhill, and charged Johnson with the larceny of $2200 note. No probable cause was found in the other complaint.

115, Sept. 1927. Judge Winn dismissed this complaint.

Bombs Set Off in Railway Station

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, May 9 (AP)—Several bombs were exploded last night in a railway station at Belgrade. There were no victims.

WOMEN, 6 MEN FACE TRIAL FOR FLOGGING

Gang Is Held After Abduction of a St. Petersburg Man; Woman Used as Decoy

Clearwater, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Another effort to break up an alleged gang of professional floggers operating in the Tampa and St. Petersburg area was under way today, with the State preparing to try six men and a woman next Tuesday on charges of kidnapping and whipping R. W. Oxford of St. Petersburg.

A grand jury here indicted the seven yesterday. Three of them, Paul Nolan, grocer; R. B. Bachelder, carpenter; and Robert Letellier, proprietor of an automobile wrecking yard, all of St. Petersburg, pleaded not guilty and were released under $3000 bond last night.

Wilbur C. Mills, Tampa salesman; Harry Harbo and Ben Chonello, Tampa, mechanics; and Mrs. Alice Henderson Woods, also of Tampa, previously had been released on bail after guilty pleas of the men under $5000 each and the woman under $500. The woman is charged with having decoyed Oxford into the car which was alleged to have been abducted.

The authorities indicated they would charge Mills with kidnapping. During the past two years there have been a half dozen floggings in the area of the indictment, but no convictions thus far.

The authorities said the Oxford case and subsequent developments "indicated the existence of a gang which operated in business-like fashion, whipping anyone pointed out on the payment of a sufficient sum."

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Charles A. Lindbergh and who had been reported as the "Eagle's" choice before his engagement to her sister was announced, is to be a bride, too, it was learned today. She is to wed Rev. C. H. Roddy, a widower, New Jersey reports said.

MORROW GIRL IS TOWED PASTOR

Englewood, N. J., May 9.—Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and once thought to be the intended bride of the eagle, is reportedly engaged to Rev. Clyde H. Roddy, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, North Arlington, N. J.

The clergyman is a widower. His first wife died three weeks after their marriage, a victim of apoplexy, while they were still on their honeymoon.

"The announcement should come from the Morrow family," he said, when asked if the report was true, refusing to say anything more about it.

His demerol indicated that it was true, and that Miss Morrow would soon be installed as housewife in the trim little cottage which was planned for another bride.

At the height of his fame, Col. Lindbergh was persistently engaged to Elizabeth Morrow. He had visited her father, then ambassador to Mexico, and had come to know the entire family well.

Returning from abroad, Miss Morrow was asked about it point blank by reporters and was about to reply when J. P. Morgan, the banker, who with her was present, intervened.

King, Queen Back at Buckingham Palace

London, May 9 (AP)—King George and Queen Mary returned today to Buckingham Palace from Windsor Castle, where they had been since early April during the King's convalescence from an attack of bronchitis. A crowd at the palace gate cheered as they drove in.

TRAIL WRECK AT LOWELL JCT.

Continued From First Page

in for ambulances and doctors, as the crash proved not as serious as first reported.

Failure of the brakes of the passenger train to hold, caused the accident, according to Fred St. John, engineer.

The leap on the line caused the re-routing of the Flying Yankee, the road's crash train between Boston and Portland, over the eastern division via Salem and Newburyport.

The passengers on the Lawrence to Boston train, a local, which left Lawrence at 8:05 daylight saving time and was due at the North Station at 9:30, were transferred to a fleet of motor coaches hurriedly sent to the scene by railroad officials.

The wreck occurred as the freight train, which was bound from Mechanicville, N. Y., to Lawrence, swung on to the main line at the junction. It had not quite cleared the southbound rails when the locomotive of the passenger train plowed into it.

The passenger train was going between 20 and 30 miles an hour and the three freight cars were badly smashed, wreckage of the cars and their cargoes being scattered over the roadbed.

Wreckers were dispatched to clear the line. One side of the passenger locomotive was damaged, but Fred Rogers, the engineer, was able to take it to Boston under its own power.

Fred Rogers was conductor of the passenger train. The engineer of the freight train was J. J. McConductor was S. Card.

Engaged to Wed

SIX MILLION RING OF DIAMONDS ROUNDED UP

Six Also Acquired of 80 Bank Robberies Are Trapped by Tapping Phone Wires

Chicago, May 9 (AP)—The authorities again have struck at gangland—this time to capture, they claimed, a gang of six kidnapers and bank robbers whose loot and ransom money ran into the millions, including $200,000 taken in the Denver Mint holdup of 1922.

Their proceeds were estimated at $2,000,000, of which $1,000,000 was fixed as ransom money, in kidnaping.

The six were caught in a spectacular raid on a "gangster flat" in downtown East St. Louis, Ill., yesterday, as the result of the combined efforts of federal, state and local authorities. An hour later the prisoners were started under heavy guard on nine automobiles toward Chicago.

LINKED WITH BARRY MORRIS

Fed by police to be remnants of the Chicago and Shelton gangs of southern Illinois and have been affiliated with the "mob" of southern Illinois since 1922.

The gang were accused of participation in more than 60 bank robberies in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, including the theft of $250,000 from the Lincoln National Bank September 17, 1930.

The gang were also alleged to have killed the slaying of Mrs. Clara Garrison, wife of Clyde Garrison, Peoria, Ill., gambler; the killing of Thomas J. Rooney, Chicago labor leader; and the kidnaping of Fred J. Blumer, Monroe, Wis., near-shore, James Earl Ray, who said he paid $150,000 for his entire fortune for his release.

NATION WIDE HUNT

The names of the six were given as Tommy Hays, Thomas O'Connor, Jack Britt, Howard Lee, E. Hawks and William McQuillan. Among the robberies attributed to the gang were holdups committed in Mandelino, Clearing, Elmhurst, LaSalle, Neponset and Marcus, Ill., and Walworth and Bristol.

The gang were accused of a nationwide search and more than eight months of intensive investigation, initiated by the Postal Department. Telephone calls, overheard by investigators, made between members of the gang in East St. Louis and Chicago, calling the "branch" together for a "board meeting" was said by the police to have been the immediate cause of the arrest.

PARLEY HELD ON VAUGHAN CASE

The tangled affairs of Guy L. Vaughn, mining bank receiver, were the subject of a conference today between Frederick D. Bantier, Vaughn's successor, and Asst. Atty. Gen. J. Murphy, who were marshaling evidence for presentation to the grand jury Monday.

Francis P. Kirk, head of an accounting firm which is examining the missing receiver's accounts, was also a party to the conference.

Vaughn is a fugitive from a warrant charging him with five counts of larceny involving $20,800.

Jefferson A. Dean Dies in Shrewsbury

Shrewsbury, May 9 (AP)—Jefferson A. Dean, 81, died here today after an illness of several weeks. He was a lineal descendant of James Dean of Oakham, a Revolutionary War hero, and was the last of several brothers in one of the prominent families of the town.

SAVED FROM POISON DEATH

Very sorry. Cannot appear. I have been charged with obtaining a passport for your son, but I hope you will have the success you desire.

The manager said the refusal to appear was unprecedented. Chaplin is still in Berlin; stated at Bill.

Johnson Freed in Haverhill Court

Haverhill, May 9.—Simon Johnson, former Congress broker, was today released from the Lawrence jail when Judge John J. Winn, in District Court, dismissed one complaint and found no probable cause on the other charge for holding Johnson for the grand jury.

Three weeks ago Johnson was arrested, charged with obtaining a passport fraudulently in July, 1930, the signature of former Mayor Albert L. Bartlett of Haverhill, and charged Johnson with the larceny of $2200 note. No probable cause was found in the other complaint.

115, Sept. 1927. Judge Winn dismissed this complaint.

Bombs Set Off in Railway Station

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, May 9 (AP)—Several bombs were exploded last night in a railway station at Belgrade. There were no victims.

WOMEN, 6 MEN FACE TRIAL FOR FLOGGING

Gang Is Held After Abduction of a St. Petersburg Man; Woman Used as Decoy

Clearwater, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Another effort to break up an alleged gang of professional floggers operating in the Tampa and St. Petersburg area was under way today, with the State preparing to try six men and a woman next Tuesday on charges of kidnapping and whipping R. W. Oxford of St. Petersburg.

A grand jury here indicted the seven yesterday. Three of them, Paul Nolan, grocer; R. B. Bachelder, carpenter; and Robert Letellier, proprietor of an automobile wrecking yard, all of St. Petersburg, pleaded not guilty and were released under $3000 bond last night.

Wilbur C. Mills, Tampa salesman; Harry Harbo and Ben Chonello, Tampa, mechanics; and Mrs. Alice Henderson Woods, also of Tampa, previously had been released on bail after guilty pleas of the men under $5000 each and the woman under $500. The woman is charged with having decoyed Oxford into the car which was alleged to have been abducted.

The authorities indicated they would charge Mills with kidnapping. During the past two years there have been a half dozen floggings in the area of the indictment, but no convictions thus far.

The authorities said the Oxford case and subsequent developments "indicated the existence of a gang which operated in business-like fashion, whipping anyone pointed out on the payment of a sufficient sum."

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Charles A. Lindbergh and who had been reported as the "Eagle's" choice before his engagement to her sister was announced, is to be a bride, too, it was learned today. She is to wed Rev. C. H. Roddy, a widower, New Jersey reports said.

MORROW GIRL IS TOWED PASTOR

Englewood, N. J., May 9.—Elizabeth Morrow, sister-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and once thought to be the intended bride of the eagle, is reportedly engaged to Rev. Clyde H. Roddy, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, North Arlington, N. J.

The clergyman is a widower. His first wife died three weeks after their marriage, a victim of apoplexy, while they were still on their honeymoon.

"The announcement should come from the Morrow family," he said, when asked if the report was true, refusing to say anything more about it.

His demerol indicated that it was true, and that Miss Morrow would soon be installed as housewife in the trim little cottage which was planned for another bride.

At the height of his fame, Col. Lindbergh was persistently engaged to Elizabeth Morrow. He had visited her father, then ambassador to Mexico, and had come to know the entire family well.

Returning from abroad, Miss Morrow was asked about it point blank by reporters and was about to reply when J. P. Morgan, the banker, who with her was present, intervened.

King, Queen Back at Buckingham Palace

London, May 9 (AP)—King George and Queen Mary returned today to Buckingham Palace from Windsor Castle, where they had been since early April during the King's convalescence from an attack of bronchitis. A crowd at the palace gate cheered as they drove in.

TRAIL WRECK AT LOWELL JCT.

Continued From First Page

in for ambulances and doctors, as the crash proved not as serious as first reported.

Failure of the brakes of the passenger train to hold, caused the accident, according to Fred St. John, engineer.

The leap on the line caused the re-routing of the Flying Yankee, the road's crash train between Boston and Portland, over the eastern division via Salem and Newburyport.

The passengers on the Lawrence to Boston train, a local, which left Lawrence at 8:05 daylight saving time and was due at the North Station at 9:30, were transferred to a fleet of motor coaches hurriedly sent to the scene by railroad officials.

The wreck occurred as the freight train, which was bound from Mechanicville, N. Y., to Lawrence, swung on to the main line at the junction. It had not quite cleared the southbound rails when the locomotive of the passenger train plowed into it.

HEAD-HUSBAND IS HAPPILY REWED, SAYS HELEN GARRETT

SUES ROBESON BACK BAY REIN, FOR DIVORCE

Actress, in a Strange Battle Against "Deceased," Says Mother Revealed "Death"

Claiming her husband, actor of a wealthy Back Bay family, whom she thought dead, having and happily "re-married" in Los Angeles, Helen Dudley, actress, has filed suit for divorce and alimony in New York, it was revealed today.

The husband claimed by Miss Dudley is Rudolph Robeson, whose name has been numbered among the select of Boston society for generations. She states that a news dispatch informed her his mother had died and left him a fortune.

The actress, whose career has been punctuated with trial as a German spy and other colorful episodes, admitted it seemed strange recently spent four months in jail for whom she long ago had been freed, but said she had reconciled herself to the odd situation.

Incidentally, she is "broken" and recently spent four months in jail for non-payment of a hotel bill. She said the New York vice probe has been a look at her case.

Following Robeson's "death," Miss Dudley married Edward Royce, director of Rio Rita and other big stage hits. Divorce followed, according to the actress, Royce, now in Hollywood, paid alimony until he learned of the ghostlike reappearance of Robeson.

At the age of 29, according to Miss Dudley, she eloped with Robeson after a football game. She said he left her and a son was born. In 1922, she alleged, her husband's mother showed her a clipping saying he was killed in a landslide in Alaska.

Wearing black, she went to London and met and married Rex. Their child, Audrey, died and they parted. Later she stood trial as a spy and was freed, and then she came to this country and appeared in Dillingham, Shubert and Prohm productions.

PLOT BASED ON LIFE OF CAROL

Vienna, May 9 (INS)—Discovery of an alleged Communist plot against King Carol II, of Rumania, was claimed by Bucharest police today. It was reported in central European radio dispatches from the Rumanian capital.

Numerous arrests have been made in the dispatches, including that of a heavily armed man found hiding under a bed in a room from which King Carol plans to review a parade of troops tomorrow.

The man fled from police discovered his hiding place and was captured after a gun battle.

Queen Helen of Rumania, Belgrade, where she is visiting her sister-in-law, the Queen of the Netherlands, is believed, for a reconciliation with King Carol.

It is said that King Alexander of Yugoslavia proposed the reconciliation, and it is believed that Queen Helen accepted his offer as mediator.

HOOVER OPENS 'WAR' COUNCIL

Orange, Va., May 9 (AP)—President Hoover arrived at his Rappahannock fishing camp in the forenoon today and immediately began a series of conferences with War Department officials.

The trip from Washington, which began at an early hour, was with him President Hoover was with Secretary Hurley and Chairman Wood of the House appropriations committee.

President's secretary, one of the President's aides, Dr. Joel Thoms, White House physician, and Maj.-Gen. Mosley, assistant chief-of-staff, followed.

Other members of the large weekend party left Washington at different times and arrived in time for lunch.

Pope Names Vicar General of Rome

Vatican City, May 9 (AP)—Pope Pius XI today appointed Cardinal Achille Ratti, vicar general of the Diocese of Rome, to succeed the late Cardinal Pignatelli, who was buried yesterday. He becomes the administrator of the Pope's own diocese.

Siamese King Tips 4 Policemen $120

Washington, May 9 (AP)—The King of Siam today gave $30 to each of the four motorcycle policemen who escorted him about the capital during his stay here last week. It was learned today.

LAW LAUGHS LAST AT KILLERS

A speedy trip to the electric chair is the state's program for Francis "Two-Gun" Crowley, whose combat with the law landed him in a New York hospital with three bullet wounds.

Garrett Finger Printed in Spite of All His Boasts

DEATH DEALER AT END OF TRAIL. Crowley is expected to go on trial Monday for the murder of Patrolman Frederick Hirsch, who interrupted the killer's getting party and was brutally shot down. (L. N. Telephone.)

WITNESS SUE BY GIRL

Miss Genevieve V. Dolan, 28, formerly of Jamaica Plain and now making her home on Commonwealth ave., near Lake st., has filed suit for $20,000 damages against John R. Whitney, 20, vice-president of the George Lawley & Sons Corporation, Newport and Dorchester shippers.

She charges that on or about Jan. 15, 1930, while at a Black Bay hotel, Whitney gave her something to drink and later attacked her. Atty. Robert B. McCabe filed an appearance for Whitney.

Miss Smith Denies Engagement Is Off

Alto, Cal., May 9 (AP)—Miss Lorna D. Smith, fiancée of Ralph McPherson, son of Evansville, Ind. Sample McPherson, denied today she had made statements attributed to her in Los Angeles that their engagement was off.

"I did not say," said Miss Smith, "that we could not make a go of it. Besides, I consider it a personal matter."

Jap Ocean Flier Halted by Storm

Nagato, Japan, May 9 (AP)—Halted by reports of snowstorms along the Kurile Islands chain northward, Saito Yoshikazu came down here today after a 38-mile flight from Nemuro, Japan. The Japanese airman has covered 800 miles of a 600-mile trip to the United States, which he started at Tokyo Monday.

INVOLUNTARY 'TREE HANGER' RESCUED

"TREE WHERE I HUNG" Alfred Mangani, 9, of Orchard st., Malden, beside the tree he climbed to get his hat and in which he was inadvertently caught.

Six-Foot-Seven Giant Prefers Army Life to Ring Game

Louisville, Ky., May 9 (AP)—George Washington Craig, 26, six feet seven inches tall, is going back in the army again to become Uncle Sam's biggest soldier, but the army had to break regulations to let him in.

Craig sought and received a discharge last July so he might try the fight game. The receipts, however, were insufficient to keep his big frame in condition, so he applied for permission to re-enlist.

The height limit for the army is six feet six. Recruiting officers found his service record was excellent and waived the height regulation.

DR. MICHELSON NEAR DEATH

Pasadena, Cal., May 9 (AP)—Dr. Albert Michelson, 78, unconscious since he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Thursday, became gradually weaker today and attending physicians said he probably would not recover.

Dr. Walter Bliss, his physician, said that but for remarkable vitality the noted physicist could not have this long survived the attack of paralysis which five weeks ago halted his experiment to eliminate a slight error in his computation of the speed of light.

Wreck Are Seized

Newport, Va., May 9 (AP)—An alien and 864 bottles of Canadian ale were seized today after an automobile, which was being chased by border patrolmen, was wrecked. The driver escaped. Angelo Verza, the alien, previously barred from the United States, also fled, but suffering from broken ribs and possible internal injuries he submitted to arrest. Verza formerly resided in Peabody, Mass.

Ships Crash in New York Fog

New York, May 9 (AP)—A heavy fog over New York harbor today paralyzed shipping and caused a minor collision between two liners in Ambrose channel.

The Lloyd Sabado liner Costa Blancamano and the Eastern Prince of the Prince Line, both outbound, collided in the channel during the heavy mist. The Eastern Prince radioed that its bridge and superstructure had been damaged, but that it would proceed to its destination to guard his Brooklyn home as a result of threats over his investigation of "Laps" Diamond's activities. Mr. Bennett revealed that he would remain at his own home while in this city.

U. S. NAMES 4 TO DRUG BARLEY

Washington, May 9 (AP)—Designation of four delegates to the League of Nations conference on the uniting of the manufacture of narcotic drugs, meeting at Geneva May 27, was announced today by Secretary Stimson.

They are John K. Caldwell, co-sponsor in the American foreign service, chairman; Harry J. Anslinger, commissioner of narcotics; Dr. W. L. Trevelyan, assistant surgeon-general of the public health service, and State Senator Sanborn of California.

Pope May Recall Spanish Cardinal

Madrid, May 9 (INS)—Confirmation was lacking today of a report published in the newspaper La Voz that Cardinal Francisco Archobispo of Toledo, Spain, may be recalled to Vatican City by Pope Pius XI. The report was based on a pastoral letter written by the primate, in which the Cardinal was urged to resign his post as primate of the national assembly who would protect the rights of the church.

POLICE GO GUNNING. Stray shots left these marks in the apartment of "Two-Gun" Crowley during the night of Thursday night, when 700 bullets were fired from machine guns, rifles and revolvers before the youth and his two companions were driven out. (L. N. photo.)

LIPTON TO RACE FOR CUP AGAIN

Southampton, May 9 (INS)—Sir Thomas Lipton, on the eve of his 81st birthday, is considering another attempt to retrieve the America Cup from the United States. He said in an interview aboard his yacht Erin here.

Sir Thomas, who is supervising the anchorage of his Shamrock II, said he was "very much interested" in the race, and that he was "very much interested" in the race, and that he was "very much interested" in the race.

SHES SORRY NOW

Uhlen Walsh, 16-year-old companion of young Crowley, was with him the night he slew Patrolman Hirsch and in the apartment with Crowley and Durniger when they shot it out with the New York police. She now says she stayed with the killers out of fear for her own life.

Atty-Gen. Bennett's Home Under Guard

New York, May 9 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bennett's family today was staying with relatives, while police continued to guard his Brooklyn home as a result of threats over his investigation of "Laps" Diamond's activities. Mr. Bennett revealed that he would remain at his own home while in this city.

Fifteen Rebels in India Are Doomed

Rangoon, Burma, May 9 (AP)—Fifteen rebels today were sentenced to death and 56 to transportation life by the Pagan special tribunal, which has been set up to deal with the insurgent movement of Jawahar. Twenty-four of ninety-five on trial were acquitted.

EXHIBIT ALL DOLLED UP

"How do you like it. You sent me here. Now see how you like it," shouted one prisoner. Garrett learned he may write two letters a week to his nearest relative, his wife, and on the fourth Thursday of each month he may write a letter to anyone whom he desires.

Princesses Pay High Price for Husbands

Singapore, May 9 (AP)—India's princeling seeking husbands of royal birth are doing badly. A princeling of the Panon State lost $45,000, a new high, to the Maharaja of Tripura to become her husband. In addition the state gave the Maharaja a substantial dowry. The wedding is to take place on May 25.

One Hurt, 5 Escape in Auto Collision

One man was injured and five escaped when two automobiles collided at the corner of North Street and Beach st., Revere, today.

Sea Bass Appear on Time at Nanticoke

Nanticoke, Cal., May 9 (INS)—Sea bass made their appearance in Nanticoke Bay today. Several hundred picked up one weighing 15 pounds and several others weighing 10 to 12 pounds were taken. The bass were making for the shore, according to fishermen, and they were taken in three or four days.

POT TO WORK IN JAIL ON REAL CLEANUP JOB

But Next Week He Will Have Chance to Show How to Swing Sledgehammer

Oliver B. Garrett's finger-prints are at last in the hands of the law. His often voiced statements that the minions of the law would never get pictures of the whores and lines on his fingertips can never be repeated.

This morning, shortly after his breakfast of cereal, bread and coffee, "Ollie" was subjected to the usual "morning-after-arrival" examination. It was during this examination that the tell-tale marks were taken from the tips of his fingers.

"Ollie" failed to comment during the examination, and no one knows what he thought was running through his mind.

After the examination he went into the new prison as a member of the "house detail," whose duty it is to clean the place from end to end. He entered these duties as prisoner.

No further jobs were hurried at him by fellow-inmates, although yesterday he was subjected to the usual greetings always given new prisoners. In his case some of the remarks were more pointed than they are when directed at a regular. For several of the prisoners are known to "Ollie."

A WASHINGTON JOE

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

It was his sledge hammer methods in Charleston, South Carolina, that brought Garrett into the news during his reign as "boss" of the liquor trade in that city. He was a member of the demolition of the old prison building, which has not been built for 10 years.

POISONED BY LETTER MAILED OUT TODAY

Continued From First Page

heap of mail on a counter and called away in a moment. I mailed my letters and left and then he followed me.

"He caught up by my right away and said: 'Are you watching me?' I replied: 'No.' He said, 'I thought you were a detective.' He was visibly disturbed, and continued the conversation by saying:

"I am living with a Harvard professor and feared detectives were following me because I recently exposed a somebody who was carrying on in Pennsylvania. With that explanation, he left me and went back to the postoffice and mailed his articles."

Prof. Corbett Magruder, vice-dean of the law school, went to the district attorney's office this forenoon and conferred with Bishop and the detectives over new developments.

LOVE CONQUESTS CHARGED

As disclosed exclusively in the Boston Evening American, the letters to Tarcouzo, to professors, to district attorney and to Boston and Cambridge society girls accuse the young instructor of numerous romances, vodka, carousals and of boasting of his conquests of wealthy women.

It was revealed today that all the notes were typewritten and that a Russ the investigators obtained a sample of the typewriting of a machine owned by a member of the Harvard faculty, only to find the samples did not tally with the mysterious missives.

"Harvard authorities, from the president down, are very much disturbed," said the district attorney. "They are anxious to have it cleared up. Everything in my power is now being done to solve the mystery."

"So far we've up against a stone wall. There's no definite evidence which to go ahead and make an indictment. The minute we get the evidence, we'll go ahead and indict."

DEAN IN DARK, TOO

One of the difficulties is that there is no handwriting to go as usual in poison pen cases. We have got to find the typewriter.

A person whom Tarcouzo blames as probably responsible for the letters has been investigated and nothing definite has been found to link him with the plot.

Prof. Magruder, to whom Tarcouzo made denials, the accusations in a long letter, coupling these with suggestions that the guilty person might be, said today:

"I don't believe Tarcouzo has either, although he has made suggestions. He is in the dark as much as we are. The person Tarcouzo suspects is only one of the possibilities in the case."

The letters were mailed from Cambridge, Boston, New York city and points in New Jersey. Moreover, anonymous telephone calls accusing Tarcouzo have been received by various persons in the university community and by his own brother, living with him on Wright st., Cambridge.

YODHA DRINKING BLAMED

Tarcouzo is helping the authorities in every way at his command, but the only tangible suggestion he was able to offer was in naming a man from whose unconscious advances he had protected certain girls.

The situation which led to this incident was produced by drinking vodka, the Russian intoxicating beverage.

At society affairs in Cambridge and Boston, and even at the dedication of the Faculty Club at Harvard, enemy was shown him and the girls he escorted by this individual, Tarcouzo asserts.

Some of the letters were signed "M. D." some were signed, "Thren Harvard Men" and several of the fragments of the instructor were signed, "One of your girl friends."

A Harvard professor's daughter was warned to cease going out with Tarcouzo because he was being investigated by the authorities, and another girl was informed that he was boasting about his conquests of women.

One letter purporting to come from a doctor stated that the writer knew a Brookline physician of long standing who had acquired certain information from a patient whose name he could not disclose more could give his own name, not wishing to be drawn into an unwelcome affair.

REPORT TO DEAN

This was signed, "An M. D. and a coward."

Tarcouzo's accounting of the whole situation to Dean Magruder is as follows:

"In connection with the anonymous letters received at your office attempting to undermine my social standing in Cambridge and my professional standing with Harvard University, I beg to submit the following:

"As to my acquaintance with the probable author of the letters I met him at Prof. Magruder's house in 1925. Having learned I was a Russian and his knowledge of the Russian language, he mentioned vodka, and asked if I indulged in it. With the knowledge that I took the occasion to invite him to my house, on three or four bridge parties which I had at my home before and after arrival of my family, to repay the kindness and hospitality which I always have shown from my friends, he also has been invited."

HALTED ADVANCES

"Unfortunately, my conduct when under the influence of vodka did not prove up to my

Defies "Poison"

Washington, May 9 (AP).—The international chamber of commerce recorded its conviction today that war, despite the fact that it was deemed by the league of nations, should be open to re-examination if changed economic conditions are found to warrant such action.

A general resolution adopted also called for intensification of efforts by the world powers for armament reductions, as urged by President Hoover; removal of all trade barriers, including discriminatory tariffs; adherence to private initiative and operation of business, and a holding down of governmental expenditures.

Seconding the motion for adoption of this resolution, Willis E. Smith, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and member of the American commission, said the American delegation had never opposed "the suggestion that any nation should not be free to take re-examination of these debts on the basis of the underlying principles upon which they have been settled."

Helen may receive an unexpected degree of leniency from the authorities. A new life, along the straight and narrow path, is open to her, District Attorney Edwards announced. He said she would not be indicted.

She has suffered a breakdown as a result of her harrowing experiences and Edwards said she would be taken somewhere for a rest.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

Duringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brennan, Bangor, Me., girl, who died here in a dime-dance hall.

Police say Crowley and Duringer took the girl for an automobile ride, and Duringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Deal may be his motive.

Stones Hurlled in College Dispute

Tiffin, O., May 8 (INS).—Alarmed over a stone-throwing escapade in which rocks were hurled through windows in an office at Heidelberg College, narrowly missing Dr. Charles E. Miller, the veteran president, authorities today began an investigation to learn the identity of the assailant.

Students believed the stones might have been thrown as a protest of a controversy between students and the college administration.

Angular Parking at Davis Square

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville today, a return to the 45 degree angular parking in the Davis square was voted on the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance by Alderman Louis C. Gobron.

Favored by the Davis Square Board of Trade, the angular parking will supplant the parallel parking, which was on trial the past week.

Driver Held After Truck Kills Girl

Dorothy Foley, four, of 156 Dorchester st., South Boston, was fatally injured last night when she was hit by a truck while crossing Old Colony a., at Dorchester st. The driver here in a dime-dance hall, one of the outstanding social events of the season at a Boston address.

After the fall, Tarcouzo reports a mysterious telephone call was received by his brother, Ivan, threatening "fix Miss Foley."

"Added to this," the report continues, "my his general disliking of me which he does not conceal from our common friends; his professional jealousy (maybe) caused by my appointment to an instructorship in the Harvard Law School, and finally his financial remarks, entirely unjustified, to my friends about my friendship with Prof. Magruder, whom, I am proud to say, I continue to meet socially as the occasions may be."

DEAN AND PROFESSOR

RED ROOSTER

SPECIAL DINNER 11 A.M. - 3 P.M.

35c

Special Dinner FROM 5 TO 8 P. M. A La Carte Service At All Time Private Booths No Cover Charge Reservations. Phone No. 3785

Fear for Recovery of Capt. Dollar

San Rafael, Cal., May 9 (AP).—Physicians here today over the condition of Capt. Robert Dollar, Al. veteran shipwrecked, after he had suffered a lapse. They said his temperature was 104.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Rafael G. Duffley said Capt. Dollar was "getting worse" and his condition was "very serious."

EXCLUSIVE

BEN AMES WILLIAMS

Noted Boston Novelist ANALYZES AMERICAN FICTION for James W. Reardon Exclusively In Tomorrow's BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Largest Sunday Circulation in New England

WAR DEBT ISSUE RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Washington, May 9 (AP).—The international chamber of commerce recorded its conviction today that war, despite the fact that it was deemed by the league of nations, should be open to re-examination if changed economic conditions are found to warrant such action.

A general resolution adopted also called for intensification of efforts by the world powers for armament reductions, as urged by President Hoover; removal of all trade barriers, including discriminatory tariffs; adherence to private initiative and operation of business, and a holding down of governmental expenditures.

Seconding the motion for adoption of this resolution, Willis E. Smith, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and member of the American commission, said the American delegation had never opposed "the suggestion that any nation should not be free to take re-examination of these debts on the basis of the underlying principles upon which they have been settled."

Helen may receive an unexpected degree of leniency from the authorities. A new life, along the straight and narrow path, is open to her, District Attorney Edwards announced. He said she would not be indicted.

She has suffered a breakdown as a result of her harrowing experiences and Edwards said she would be taken somewhere for a rest.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

Duringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brennan, Bangor, Me., girl, who died here in a dime-dance hall.

Police say Crowley and Duringer took the girl for an automobile ride, and Duringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Deal may be his motive.

Stones Hurlled in College Dispute

Tiffin, O., May 8 (INS).—Alarmed over a stone-throwing escapade in which rocks were hurled through windows in an office at Heidelberg College, narrowly missing Dr. Charles E. Miller, the veteran president, authorities today began an investigation to learn the identity of the assailant.

Students believed the stones might have been thrown as a protest of a controversy between students and the college administration.

Angular Parking at Davis Square

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville today, a return to the 45 degree angular parking in the Davis square was voted on the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance by Alderman Louis C. Gobron.

Favored by the Davis Square Board of Trade, the angular parking will supplant the parallel parking, which was on trial the past week.

Driver Held After Truck Kills Girl

Dorothy Foley, four, of 156 Dorchester st., South Boston, was fatally injured last night when she was hit by a truck while crossing Old Colony a., at Dorchester st. The driver here in a dime-dance hall, one of the outstanding social events of the season at a Boston address.

After the fall, Tarcouzo reports a mysterious telephone call was received by his brother, Ivan, threatening "fix Miss Foley."

"Added to this," the report continues, "my his general disliking of me which he does not conceal from our common friends; his professional jealousy (maybe) caused by my appointment to an instructorship in the Harvard Law School, and finally his financial remarks, entirely unjustified, to my friends about my friendship with Prof. Magruder, whom, I am proud to say, I continue to meet socially as the occasions may be."

DEAN AND PROFESSOR

RED ROOSTER

SPECIAL DINNER 11 A.M. - 3 P.M.

35c

Special Dinner FROM 5 TO 8 P. M. A La Carte Service At All Time Private Booths No Cover Charge Reservations. Phone No. 3785

Fear for Recovery of Capt. Dollar

San Rafael, Cal., May 9 (AP).—Physicians here today over the condition of Capt. Robert Dollar, Al. veteran shipwrecked, after he had suffered a lapse. They said his temperature was 104.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Rafael G. Duffley said Capt. Dollar was "getting worse" and his condition was "very serious."

2-GUN-KILLER PLEADS FOR A QUICK DEATH

Continued From First Page

Washington, May 9 (AP).—The international chamber of commerce recorded its conviction today that war, despite the fact that it was deemed by the league of nations, should be open to re-examination if changed economic conditions are found to warrant such action.

A general resolution adopted also called for intensification of efforts by the world powers for armament reductions, as urged by President Hoover; removal of all trade barriers, including discriminatory tariffs; adherence to private initiative and operation of business, and a holding down of governmental expenditures.

Seconding the motion for adoption of this resolution, Willis E. Smith, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and member of the American commission, said the American delegation had never opposed "the suggestion that any nation should not be free to take re-examination of these debts on the basis of the underlying principles upon which they have been settled."

Helen may receive an unexpected degree of leniency from the authorities. A new life, along the straight and narrow path, is open to her, District Attorney Edwards announced. He said she would not be indicted.

She has suffered a breakdown as a result of her harrowing experiences and Edwards said she would be taken somewhere for a rest.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

Duringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brennan, Bangor, Me., girl, who died here in a dime-dance hall.

Police say Crowley and Duringer took the girl for an automobile ride, and Duringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Deal may be his motive.

Stones Hurlled in College Dispute

Tiffin, O., May 8 (INS).—Alarmed over a stone-throwing escapade in which rocks were hurled through windows in an office at Heidelberg College, narrowly missing Dr. Charles E. Miller, the veteran president, authorities today began an investigation to learn the identity of the assailant.

Students believed the stones might have been thrown as a protest of a controversy between students and the college administration.

Angular Parking at Davis Square

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville today, a return to the 45 degree angular parking in the Davis square was voted on the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance by Alderman Louis C. Gobron.

Favored by the Davis Square Board of Trade, the angular parking will supplant the parallel parking, which was on trial the past week.

Driver Held After Truck Kills Girl

Dorothy Foley, four, of 156 Dorchester st., South Boston, was fatally injured last night when she was hit by a truck while crossing Old Colony a., at Dorchester st. The driver here in a dime-dance hall, one of the outstanding social events of the season at a Boston address.

After the fall, Tarcouzo reports a mysterious telephone call was received by his brother, Ivan, threatening "fix Miss Foley."

"Added to this," the report continues, "my his general disliking of me which he does not conceal from our common friends; his professional jealousy (maybe) caused by my appointment to an instructorship in the Harvard Law School, and finally his financial remarks, entirely unjustified, to my friends about my friendship with Prof. Magruder, whom, I am proud to say, I continue to meet socially as the occasions may be."

DEAN AND PROFESSOR

RED ROOSTER

SPECIAL DINNER 11 A.M. - 3 P.M.

35c

Special Dinner FROM 5 TO 8 P. M. A La Carte Service At All Time Private Booths No Cover Charge Reservations. Phone No. 3785

Fear for Recovery of Capt. Dollar

San Rafael, Cal., May 9 (AP).—Physicians here today over the condition of Capt. Robert Dollar, Al. veteran shipwrecked, after he had suffered a lapse. They said his temperature was 104.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Rafael G. Duffley said Capt. Dollar was "getting worse" and his condition was "very serious."

FAMOUS SLAYER MEETS DEATH UNDER AUTO

Continued From First Page

Washington, May 9 (AP).—The international chamber of commerce recorded its conviction today that war, despite the fact that it was deemed by the league of nations, should be open to re-examination if changed economic conditions are found to warrant such action.

A general resolution adopted also called for intensification of efforts by the world powers for armament reductions, as urged by President Hoover; removal of all trade barriers, including discriminatory tariffs; adherence to private initiative and operation of business, and a holding down of governmental expenditures.

Seconding the motion for adoption of this resolution, Willis E. Smith, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and member of the American commission, said the American delegation had never opposed "the suggestion that any nation should not be free to take re-examination of these debts on the basis of the underlying principles upon which they have been settled."

Helen may receive an unexpected degree of leniency from the authorities. A new life, along the straight and narrow path, is open to her, District Attorney Edwards announced. He said she would not be indicted.

She has suffered a breakdown as a result of her harrowing experiences and Edwards said she would be taken somewhere for a rest.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

Duringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brennan, Bangor, Me., girl, who died here in a dime-dance hall.

Police say Crowley and Duringer took the girl for an automobile ride, and Duringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Deal may be his motive.

Stones Hurlled in College Dispute

Tiffin, O., May 8 (INS).—Alarmed over a stone-throwing escapade in which rocks were hurled through windows in an office at Heidelberg College, narrowly missing Dr. Charles E. Miller, the veteran president, authorities today began an investigation to learn the identity of the assailant.

Students believed the stones might have been thrown as a protest of a controversy between students and the college administration.

Angular Parking at Davis Square

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville today, a return to the 45 degree angular parking in the Davis square was voted on the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance by Alderman Louis C. Gobron.

Favored by the Davis Square Board of Trade, the angular parking will supplant the parallel parking, which was on trial the past week.

Driver Held After Truck Kills Girl

Dorothy Foley, four, of 156 Dorchester st., South Boston, was fatally injured last night when she was hit by a truck while crossing Old Colony a., at Dorchester st. The driver here in a dime-dance hall, one of the outstanding social events of the season at a Boston address.

After the fall, Tarcouzo reports a mysterious telephone call was received by his brother, Ivan, threatening "fix Miss Foley."

"Added to this," the report continues, "my his general disliking of me which he does not conceal from our common friends; his professional jealousy (maybe) caused by my appointment to an instructorship in the Harvard Law School, and finally his financial remarks, entirely unjustified, to my friends about my friendship with Prof. Magruder, whom, I am proud to say, I continue to meet socially as the occasions may be."

DEAN AND PROFESSOR

RED ROOSTER

SPECIAL DINNER 11 A.M. - 3 P.M.

35c

Special Dinner FROM 5 TO 8 P. M. A La Carte Service At All Time Private Booths No Cover Charge Reservations. Phone No. 3785

Fear for Recovery of Capt. Dollar

San Rafael, Cal., May 9 (AP).—Physicians here today over the condition of Capt. Robert Dollar, Al. veteran shipwrecked, after he had suffered a lapse. They said his temperature was 104.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Rafael G. Duffley said Capt. Dollar was "getting worse" and his condition was "very serious."

FAMOUS SLAYER MEETS DEATH UNDER AUTO

Continued From First Page

Washington, May 9 (AP).—The international chamber of commerce recorded its conviction today that war, despite the fact that it was deemed by the league of nations, should be open to re-examination if changed economic conditions are found to warrant such action.

A general resolution adopted also called for intensification of efforts by the world powers for armament reductions, as urged by President Hoover; removal of all trade barriers, including discriminatory tariffs; adherence to private initiative and operation of business, and a holding down of governmental expenditures.

Seconding the motion for adoption of this resolution, Willis E. Smith, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, and member of the American commission, said the American delegation had never opposed "the suggestion that any nation should not be free to take re-examination of these debts on the basis of the underlying principles upon which they have been settled."

Helen may receive an unexpected degree of leniency from the authorities. A new life, along the straight and narrow path, is open to her, District Attorney Edwards announced. He said she would not be indicted.

She has suffered a breakdown as a result of her harrowing experiences and Edwards said she would be taken somewhere for a rest.

GIRL FEARED DEATH

Duringer, taken to the Bronx, was indicted for the murder of Virginia Brennan, Bangor, Me., girl, who died here in a dime-dance hall.

Police say Crowley and Duringer took the girl for an automobile ride, and Duringer confessed that he alone killed her with Crowley's revolver. Deal may be his motive.

Stones Hurlled in College Dispute

Tiffin, O., May 8 (INS).—Alarmed over a stone-throwing escapade in which rocks were hurled through windows in an office at Heidelberg College, narrowly missing Dr. Charles E. Miller, the veteran president, authorities today began an investigation to learn the identity of the assailant.

Students believed the stones might have been thrown as a protest of a controversy between students and the college administration.

Angular Parking at Davis Square

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Somerville today, a return to the 45 degree angular parking in the Davis square was voted on the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance by Alderman Louis C. Gobron.

Favored by the Davis Square Board of Trade, the angular parking will supplant the parallel parking, which was on trial the past week.

Driver Held After Truck Kills Girl

Dorothy Foley, four, of 156 Dorchester st., South Boston, was fatally injured last night when she was hit by a truck while crossing Old Colony a., at Dorchester st. The driver here in a dime-dance hall, one of the outstanding social events of the season at a Boston address.

After the fall, Tarcouzo reports a mysterious telephone call was received by his brother, Ivan, threatening "fix Miss Foley."

"Added to this," the report continues, "my his general disliking of me which he does not conceal from our common friends; his professional jealousy (maybe) caused by my appointment to an instructorship in the Harvard Law School, and finally his financial remarks, entirely unjustified, to my friends about my friendship with Prof. Magruder, whom, I am proud to say, I continue to meet socially as the occasions may be."

DEAN AND PROFESSOR

RED ROOSTER

SPECIAL DINNER 11 A.M. - 3 P.M.

35c

Special Dinner FROM 5 TO 8 P. M. A La Carte Service At All Time Private Booths No Cover Charge Reservations. Phone No. 3785

Fear for Recovery of Capt. Dollar

San Rafael, Cal., May 9 (AP).—Physicians here today over the condition of Capt. Robert Dollar, Al. veteran shipwrecked, after he had suffered a lapse. They said his temperature was 104.

A bulletin issued by Dr. Rafael G. Duffley said Capt. Dollar was "getting worse" and his condition was "very serious."

College Libraries Benefit by Will

Philadelphia, May 9 (AP).—The James Lenox Foundation Library at Yale University and the Maria Hooper Pennington Library at the University of Pennsylvania, will benefit from the $20,000 estate left by Dr. James Hooper Pennington, author and educator, who died here recently.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

The estate was left in trust to his brother, Joseph H. Pennington, provost of the University of Pennsylvania. Upon his death the income is to be used for the purchase of books for the two libraries.

YOUNG MAN SEES PLOT TO 'ROB' STATE VOTERS

A non-partisan appeal to the members of the House to save the popular direct primary law was issued today by Lieut.-Gov. William S. Youngman.

In a letter to the individual members, the lieutenant-governor urged them to reject the so-called pre-primary convention bill, sponsored by a group of self-appointed leaders under the direction of Chairman Anna L. Taylor of the Republican State committee, when it comes up for debate next Monday.

HINTS AT 'PLOT'
"This bill is an attempt to use the Legislature to take away from the people their money of nominating, directly, their highest officers, governor, lieutenant-governor, and United States senators," he charged.

"The proposed convention is deceptively called a 'pre-primary convention,' but in practical effect it would nullify the direct primary and produce a return of the old convention system of nomination.

"I wish to warn the members of the Legislature that a vote for this bill would be a vote to throw away 26 years of progress, to take power away from the people and give it to the bosses. It would be a vote to take away at least 80 per cent of the power and influence of the women voters of Massachusetts."

He pointed out that, even under the present system of nominating candidates, there are but three women in the Legislature with a total membership of 290.

WOMEN IN LEAD
"We can easily estimate how many women would be elected to the pre-primary convention," he stressed. "Their influence would be negligible. At present women take full advantage of their power to nominate party candidates. In some places more women than men actually vote in the primaries and their influence is felt equally with that of the men in the nominations."

"So enraged are the bosses at the decay of the women voters that they will do anything to lessen the power of the women voters. This pre-primary convention scheme was conceived for their purpose."

F. M. Platt Dies

Pittsfield, May 9 (AP)—Frederick M. Platt, 74, city treasurer since 1907, died today after a brief illness.

GOSSIP in the SHOPS

About people you know in Boston stores
—By FRANCES BAIRD—

A complete sports department will be opened at Houghton's next week, in charge of Joseph Norton, formerly of Bristol. Norton is buying the goods for his department now, store officials revealed.

NEW JORDAN EXECUTIVE
Miss Helena Fitzsimmons, for the past five years personnel director for Kaufmann's, a large department store in Pittsburgh, will take over new duties as training director for Jordan's, G. G. Hawkins, store manager.

Miss Fitzsimmons succeeds Miss Mary Sue Hopkins, retired. She is a graduate of the Princeton School and is well known in retail trade circles. She is also contributing to periodicals and newspapers. Previous to her contract with Kaufmann's she was employed as an executive in Harnberger's, Newark, N. J.

DISPLAY CLUB TO MEET

The Boston Display Men's Club will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening, May 12, at 6:30, in Fienne's restaurant, the committee in charge of arrangements announced today.

Display managers from department stores are particularly urged to attend this meeting, when important business for the convention and dance will be discussed. Ladies' night will be held on Monday, May 11, for the May dance. Walter Keller, display manager for Delano's, John Harvey and Walter Ashley, of the latter, will be in charge of the dinner meeting.

FILED EMPLOYE TO WED

The engagement of Miss Barbara Tracy, of the Boston Post, to Donald S. Mackay, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tracy of Newington.

The wedding will be celebrated on Saturday, June 6, at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Tracy is a graduate at Framingham Normal school and her fiancé is a Cornell graduate and is now in the insurance business. The ceremony will be at home in Buffalo after a wedding trip to Canada.

ELECTED CLUB DIRECTOR

Dana Smith, assistant editor of floor coverings for R. H. White's Basement Store, has been elected a director of the New England Carpet Club to succeed George Bolster, floor covering buyer for Jordan's Main Store, and Bob Gately, rug salesman for the same firm, who were also chosen directors to fill vacancies created by the removal of officers from this territory. Gately has the place of Charles Gorda, former assistant rug buyer for Jordan's.

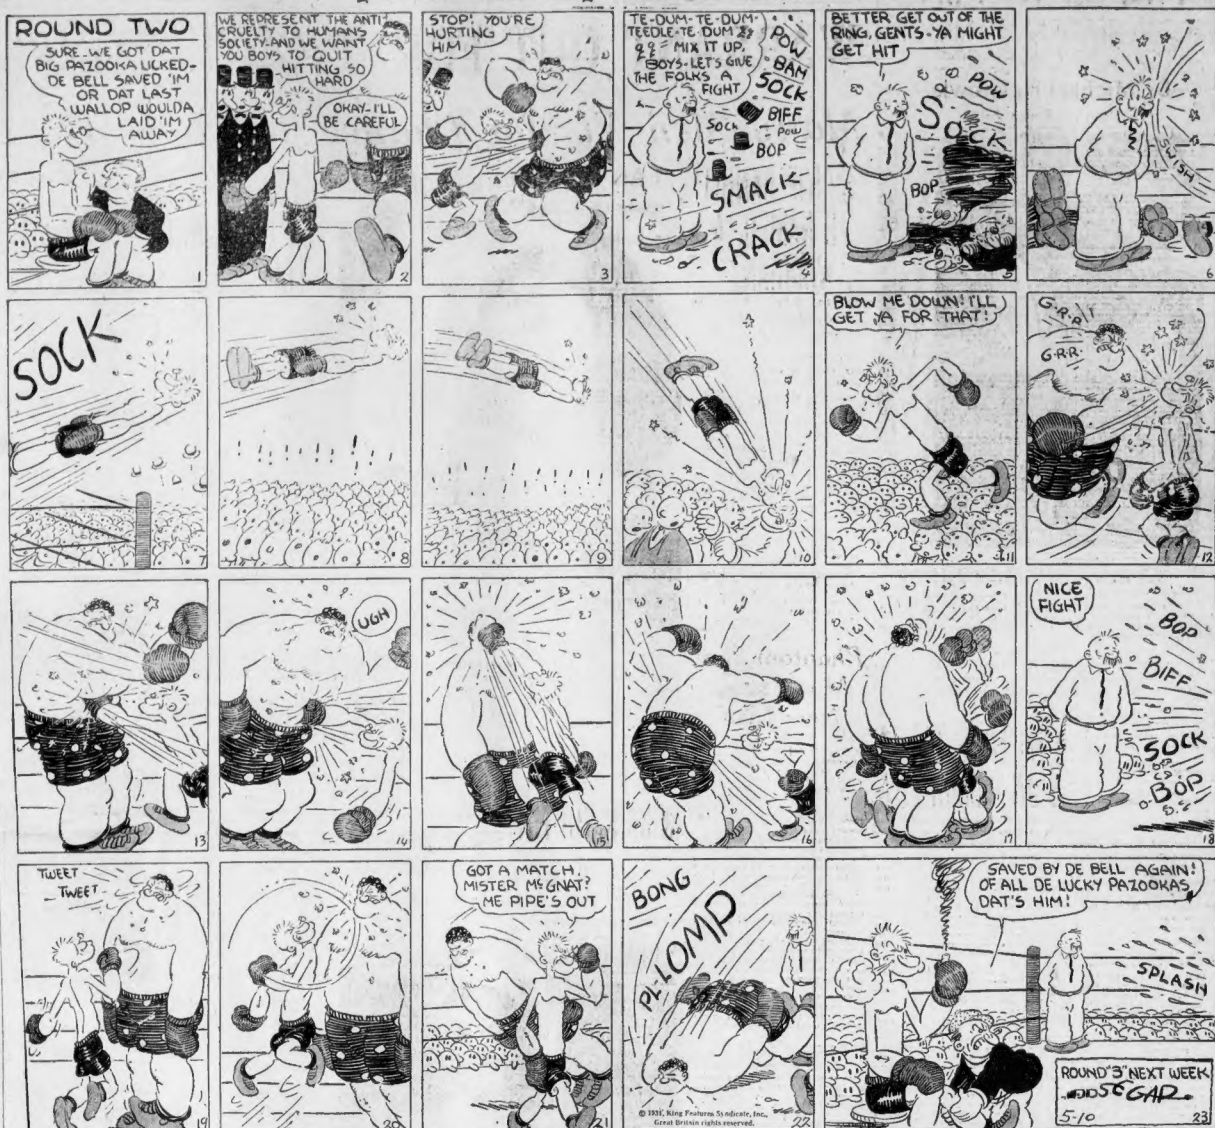

PLANS EXTENDED VACATION

Mrs. Virginia Halloran, of

POPEYE

Popeye vs. The Great Tinearo

An Exclusive Feature Every Saturday in the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

TANKER SAFE IN FIRE BATTLE

New York, May 9 (AP)—The tanker Ruth Kelling was proceeding under her own power today after a three-hour struggle with fire at sea. She was bound from Texas City for Warner City, N. J., with crude oil.

Radio messages said one man was so badly burned that he either jumped or fell overboard and was lost. Another was transferred for treatment to the tanker John D. Archibald, which stood by. At 8 O'Clock p. m. (E. S. T.) yesterday summoned the Archibald. Radio reception was halted for 20 minutes. The tanker was 200 miles east of Savannah, Ga.

Greyhound Has Big Lead in River Race

Memphis, Tenn., May 9 (AP)—The speedboat Greyhound early today had an 11-hour lead in the race to lower the Mississippi River, according to the race committee.

The Greyhound, owned by Fred, carried the Greyhound, slipped last night through waters that in 1926 delisted the Eagle, which took the center. Dr. Louis Levy, of Memphis to St. Louis in 87 hours 31 minutes.

Court'nd Not Due

Home Untold Fall

London, May 9 (AP)—Friends of Augustine Courtland, young British scientist, who is proceeding to safety after a winter on the Greenland ice cap, do not expect to see him in England until September.

CREWS ABANDON SHIPS IN CRASH

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 9 (AP)—The British steamer Pacific and the German steamer Hugo Stinnes collided in the Baltic today. The crews had to take to the boats because of the heavy list of the two vessels.

The collision, said advice from Stockholm, island of Pomerania, occurred at 3 a. m. both ships being badly damaged and calling for assistance. Danish and German lifeboats, putting out to sea them, found some of the Pacific's crew in boats.

The Pacific is believed to belong to the Cocker line, and to be proceeding from Hull to Danish with ballast, and to passengers. Hugo Stinnes is a 3,000-ton vessel out of Hamburg.

Belgians Threaten to Close Coal Mines

Brussels, May 9 (AP)—Belgian coalminers, with 3,000,000 tons of coal on hand, are threatening to close down unless the Government yields to demands of a joint miners' and owners' committee for compulsory consumption of domestic coal at certain home industries, establishment of import licenses and opening of a bank of credits.

Sir James Barrie 71 Years Old Today

London, May 9 (AP)—Sir James Barrie, author of "Peter Pan," was 71 years old today. Sir James is still vigorous and takes an active part in English literary life.

World Getting Much Tougher

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Attorneys for 20-year-old New York cop killer will probably blame it on the war. He was only 12 years old at that time.

But that will not stop a lawyer. The mouthpiece will say his client was so mad because he couldn't fight in 1918 he's been fighting ever since.

We don't know what makes a man hate police so much he wants to fight 300 of them.

Looks like poor matchmaking to us.

The battle and capture were perfect. We're glad the police are learning something from the movies.

Getting so if you aren't two-gun powder or three-gun scramble you ain't nobody at all.

The girls are carrying that many.

Minister Is Killed;
5 Hurt in Crash

Gainesville, Ga., May 9 (AP)—Rev. J. L. Jackson, 63, prominent Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga., died and five persons, members of a party returning with Mr. Jackson from a funeral at Murphy, N. C., are suffering injuries as the result of an auto accident near here last night.

Survivors said the accident was due to something going wrong with the steering gear.

7 NATIONS SIGN SUGAR PACT

Brussels, May 9 (AP)—The seven great sugar exporting countries of the world today signed the Chadbourne international sugar contract, which, they hope, will assure producers fair profits and, at the same time, guard the consumer against unduly high prices.

Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Hungary, Java and Cuba signed the agreement, which Thomas L. Chadbourne, of New York, brought to a successful conclusion.

It is his own plan for saving the world sugar industry by restricting exportation.

He turned over its operation to Francis Powell, another American who has long been engaged in business in Europe and is the international sugar counsel at The Hague.

The plan calls for rigid restriction of exportation and will result in an increase of the price of sugar to a point which will make export profitable.

The present surplus stock of 2,500,000 tons will be segregated and if the price goes too high part of it will be released, bringing the price down.

Tilden Goes Into Touring Business

New York, May 9 (AP)—Tilden common and Tilden preferred are closed high on the New York stock market today, having incorporated under the name "The Tilden Touring Car Corporation."

Survivors said the accident was due to something going wrong with the steering gear.

POLITICS

Notes and Gossip
About People
You Know

McGRATH BOOM ON

Acting Mayor Joseph McGrath of Ward 13, Dorchester, is one of the most popular men to ever hold that office. He has a host of friends in all sections of the city and many are of the opinion that he is the logical successor to Mayor Curley in 1934. He is 38 years old, has been in politics for 15 years, is married and the father of one child, Richard, one and a half years old. He is in the real estate business.

MISS DRISCOLL ELECTED

Miss Marie Driscoll, of the city collector's office has been elected grand councillor of the Girl Scouts of America for this district. She has long been interested in the educational and physical training of small girls and her elevation to that office is a tribute to her work.

CLUB FOR GLEASON

Members of the Union Park Athletic Club at a special meeting last night went on record unanimously in favor of the re-election of City Councillor Richard D. Gleason of Ward 5, Roxbury.

RYAN GUEST SPEAKER

Morgan T. Ryan, assistant secretary to Governor Ely, will speak at the Corner De Leon Council No. 67, Knights of Columbus, at 8 p. m. Sunday morning, in Hotel Kendall, Framingham.

AGNEW HAS NEW CAR

John J. Fitzgerald of Ludlow, chauffeur for Adj.-Gen. John H. Agnew, takes great pride in the general's new car. After Gen. Agnew was appointed one of the two cars assigned the department was turned in for a new machine. The car formerly used by re-adj.-Gen. Jesse F. Stevens was then reassigned to the quartermaster.

PAGE RE-NACTS CIRCUITS

Clavin McCall of Leominster, "bantam" Senate page, this year saw his second big circus. The next day after the big thrill "Mickey" entertained the rest of the pages with a vivid description of each act.

WOMEN AID MONTGOMERY

Judging by the campaign work now being carried on by women supporters of Representative Anthony Montgomery of Ward 4, Dorchester, there seems to be little doubt but that he is a candidate for City Council from that district this fall. "Tony" was a candidate in 1926 and was defeated by a small majority by Councillor John F. Dowd.

ANOTHER CUREX IN RACE

Edward Jackson Curley of Crumpley Way, Dorchester, has been named by the City Council for City Council from Ward 13, has decided he will enter the contest for school committee instead. He has long been interested in educational matters and believes he would find the work of the school committee more interesting.

EASTMAN ON JOH

"Bride of Mel" Eastman of the municipal employment bureau will be pleased to learn that he has returned to his duties. He was stricken with pneumonia in March and for a time it was feared that his illness would be fatal.

BABE RUTH AS KNOW HIM

FROM REFORM SCHOOL TO NATIONAL IDOL

By Michael H. Crowley

Supt. of Boston Police

PAIS OF BABE RUTH. SUPT. OF POLICE CROWLEY
AND SON, ARTHUR, A COURT OFFICER

(In yesterday's installment Police Superintendent Crowley told of the tribute paid Babe Ruth by Hughie Duffy, past master and baseball strategist. Today is the concluding chapter of the police head's personal narrative.)

In concluding this little treatise of mine, I might say that in my opinion what makes Babe Ruth a leading ballplayer is his response always to the challenge of the seemingly impossible.

Even in his accidents and illnesses, when the doctors have shaken their heads slowly and declared "No," the Babe has nodded his head vigorously and uttered a determined "O, Yes."

And then he has buckled down to proving that he was right while the opposition was wrong all the time.

Brought Up by Jake
Yankee Father Spur Babe to Stop Foolish Betting

I have never seen the Babe as angry and fighting mad as in 1925 when he was laid up at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York. You may remember that Babe went into the hospital first—very much fretted—and there were columns written daily about his condition.

The Babe wasn't making much of a fight against his malady until he learned of a statement by Prof. James J. Atlas, well-known New Haven dilettante, who had visited Ruth in the hospital.

That course the Babe was striving to get better. That was only natural. But he was not, figuratively, up on his toes and digging in. Well, this Prof. Atlas, following his visit, issued a statement in which he said flat-footedly that the Babe never could play ball again, and he added that if Babe came out of the hospital it would be as an invalid.

Babe was wild when he heard the statement, and from then on he began to pick up with amazing speed.

"That big palooka," he growled. "I'll show him."

Still Showing Them
Big Babe Has Learned to Hold On to Cash

That has been his attitude all along—to show the scuffers. It was only last season that he told me his careless betting, and it was careless betting, on horses and dog races, was stopped by him just on the day that he had won the Yankees played on him in training camp in Florida.

There had been a lot of stories going the rounds that the Babe was broke, that he had lost his money and his car, and that he had been out in a money way.

This talk followed several abrupt contacts on Page 13, Column 9.

News in Want Ads

—A Boston automobile concern has three used roadsters which cannot be told from new cars. They have been driven less than 10,000 miles.

—Unfurnished apartments of two and three rooms, with all improvements, are for rent in Cambridge. They have electric refrigeration and incinerators.

—Office for summer homes are for sale at Mirror Lake, Wrentham. Well-located lake offers excellent fishing.

—A summer at piano dealer is selling used instruments for as little as $25. Convenient terms are allowed.

See TODAY'S WANT ADS

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

SECOND SECTION

BOSTON, SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1931

WARRANT OUT FOR 'PIGEY STRIP' SUSPECT

Many Men Vie for Chance to Cheer Lovesick Model

'STRIP BANDIT' IS NAMED IN WARRANT

Man and Woman Victims of Drobbling Holdup Identify Photo of Harry Dean

Tunton, May 9.—A warrant was issued in district court today for Harry Dean of Easton, charged with being the "pigeys" bandit who last Wednesday night robbed William H. Robinson of Weymouth and a Mrs. Marion Smith of Attleboro and fled in Robinson's car after forcing his victims to strip to the skin.

According to Chief of Police Elinor T. Ellis, Robinson and Mrs. Smith identified pictures of Dean as the "strip bandit" shortly after his robbery. Police have since been seeking him for questioning, but without success.

Robinson, who was picked up by a passing motorist on a lonely road in Easton, clad only in his underwear, told police the bandit had small eyes with a peculiar pig-like appearance.

The warrant carries two charges, assault and robbery while armed.

'FAN' MAIL BRINGS CHEER

Letters of encouragement and sympathy to Miss Dorothy Hubert, blonde art model, who attempted suicide six days ago, because she was lovesick, by taking poison, have brought her a new outlook on life. The letters from all sections of the State offered both companionship and sympathy to the girl. Here she is reading her fan mail at the City Hospital. (Staff photo.)

OFFERS POUR IN ON GIRL WHO TRIED TO DIE

Letters From Every Section of State Bring Words of Encouragement

So lovesick six days ago that she attempted to end it all with the poison route, Miss Dorothy Hubert, blonde art model, today found offers of companionship plenty awaiting her as she continued to improve steadily in City Hospital.

Every visit of the postman to the hospital marks the arrival of more "sympathy letters" for Miss Hubert. And from all sections of the state comes letters advising the model to forget the past and start out with them toward a happier future.

Miss Hubert said she appreciated the offers, but added that she did not intend to take advantage of them.

A SALESMAN WRITES

Among the many such letters received by the girl was one from Stow, which read:

"Miss Hubert: Perhaps the meeting of a new man would cheer you up, and if you would like to try I'd like to hear from you."

A traveling salesman who didn't have time to write a letter sent this message on a post card:

"Dear Dol—(He is a stranger to the model):

"I have a proposition that might interest you. It will get you out of that art job and you will be all set. Excuse the card because I am in a hurry—driving through Portland. Will meet you at Hotel Statler, Monday, May 11, 6:30 p. m. Will wear light brown suit. Write to him."

ALONG LITTLE JOKE

A 20-year-old man in Springfield, Mass., said he had been tempted to cheer the girl with a joke about a miniature automobile and a paragraph about the beauties of nature, and asked the model to write to him.

Today, in the real estate column of the classified Ads you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

FIVE AND TEN

Berry Kisses Jennifer as They Rush in His Car to the Edgerton's Party

By Fannie Hurst

Whose Novels Have Given Her a Reputation as One of the Foremost of Modern Writers

(Copyright, 1930, by Fannie Hurst)

This famous story has been made into a talking picture by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with Marion Davies in the leading roles.

THE GREAT-GRANDFATHER of Leslie Edgerton had once been governor of a Confederate state. It had cost the grandfather of Leslie Edgerton one million and a half dollars to run on a foredoomed ticket for President of the United States.

The father of Leslie Edgerton had married a Miss Henrietta Crosby of Crosby, Ct., and had retrieved the million and many more by judiciously inheriting by proxy of this wife, the Crosby wealth and connections.

The paths of the Crosbys and the Harbicks crossed occasionally, chiefly at Bailey's Beach, public charity functions, bridges, bazaar, teas and occasionally in a purely social way.

The paths of the Crosbys and the Harbicks crossed occasionally, chiefly at Bailey's Beach, public charity functions, bridges, bazaar, teas and occasionally in a purely social way.

Leslie had ventured to include the Crosbys in what had been the largest dinner dance of the season, with which she had magnificently set the winter ball rolling last night after the opening of the opera.

They "Regretted"

The Crosbys had "regretted." Jennifer had cried, with her usual irrelevant questionnaire, which she hurried while waiting at such situations, "Where did they get off?" The Edgertons had not set my hair on fire.

Be that as it may, when the Edgertons regretted either the high-water-mark hopes for their dinner had ventured to include the Crosbys in what had been the largest dinner dance of the season, with which she had magnificently set the winter ball rolling last night after the opening of the opera.

Leslie had never set foot on Puddle, where the Edgertons kept open house, and writer on their enormous estates skirting Farrowton.

Among Hills

Jennifer was about to set foot there now, and she was regretting foot, in a white-fur sandal that was mounted on a four-inch heel.

Farmly ran back into the Puddle Hills. The house itself, rose off a steep eminence, like a heart of 400 heavily wooded acres, a terrace, laid in bright blue, shone around it like a lake.

Marble statues, fountains with blue tiles and lions, led to the blue-tiled terrace from lower ones of green turf.

The building itself was a long low one, an enormous width, on particular depth, and a whiteness to it that reminded Jennifer of the white marble of the "Carnegie Library" because of this low width and the pale of carriage that reached round beside the four flights of marble staircases.

The Edgertons had decided to have a sense of humor and, in particular depth, and a whiteness to it that reminded Jennifer of the white marble of the "Carnegie Library" because of this low width and the pale of carriage that reached round beside the four flights of marble staircases.

This five years previous had been rushed to completion in time for Leslie's birthday. Henrietta Edgerton promptly christened it her "white beta note" and had the coping of the superb swimming-pool, which was out of natural rock, elaborately inlaid in black and white symbolic beasts of two heads and four tails.

The white crash of this house in the Puddle Hills, in the land within its radius from New York was a sore point with Tom Edgerton, 33, of Wimbury, N. Y., who owned a million and a half, and was known as "Tommy" on the New York Stock Exchange.

Suspect Is Held in Theft of Taxicab

A taxicab, taken by the passenger after a ride from Boston to Cambridge, was found abandoned today in Andover. Almost at the same time, John C. Hyman, alias Spencer, 23, of Wimbury, N. Y., was arrested for attempted larceny of another car and held for Boston police in connection with the theft of the cab.

In New York court he was held in $1000 bonds for a hearing Friday. The taxicab was reported stolen last night by George Woolley of Sullister, Brighton, the driver.

$200 Fine in Malden

Lottery Ticket Case

Vernon L. Pelton, who said he lived in Belmont St., Portland, Me., was fined $200 in Malden today for possessing lottery tickets. He was arrested on the Newburyport turnpike yesterday. Pelton said he had 3000 tickets. The All-American and other lotteries.

Phantom Shot

Misses Man Near Lynn

After an absence of nearly a month the "phantom sniper" made an appearance in the Lynn district in the early morning today.

Robert Friss, a Lynn driver on the main road from Revere to Lynn, was fired upon from a heavily curtained sedan which roared past him toward Lynn.

Although Friss said the shot was fired at a range of a few yards, the bullet missed his automobile.

Friss returned in Revere, where he gave police a description of the car. The Revere police notified the Lynn authorities and the combined forces of the two cities combed the district till daylight without finding a trace of the "sniper's" car.

During the search, a squad of Lynn officers found the car of John E. Kelly, Lynn overman in a ditch at Columbia rd. and Empire st., with Kelly asleep at the wheel.

Kelly was held today at Lynn police headquarters charged with drunkenness and operating while under the influence of liquor.

Woman Is Felled by "Parked" Auto

As Mrs. Anna Kaplan of Sumner st., Lynn, stood before a parked automobile in Central st. today waiting for a break in traffic to cross the street, the parked car suddenly lurched forward, knocking her to the pavement.

FILE PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY

One woman and four men filed voluntary petitions in bankruptcy in federal court today citing liabilities of $28,811.02 and assets of $6543.24 as follows:

Bertha Greenstein, housewife; Acushnet ave., New Bedford, liabilities $18,467.74, assets $5500; E. Roy Anderson, pressman, Hemenway st., Boston, liabilities $1512.00, no assets; Arthur P. Blake, laborer, Greenfield, liabilities $2046.68, no assets; George C. Hackley, farmer, South Main st., Orange, liabilities $1344.97; Harold V. Connolly, general contractor, Brookline, liabilities $3445.54, no assets.

IN HER PRIZE COSTUME

Miss Elizabeth Kerr of Finsbury, president of the sophomore class at Simmons College, who, aided by the duck, won first prize at the annual field day. (Staff photo.)

MAN MISSING 9 DAYS IS FOUND

Suffering from exhaustion and lack of food, John Skahan of Dover st., Saugus, who nine days ago disappeared and was believed to have committed suicide, was today found in barn loft by Axel W. Anderson.

Skahan was placed under the care of Dr. George S. Parcher who held some hope for Skahan's recovery.

Weakened and starved, Skahan was in a state of collapse when Anderson who went to the barn for some hay, discovered his inert body. He notified the police and a physician.

Nine days ago when word of Skahan's disappearance was broadcast, more than 100 Lynn and Saugus Boy Scouts scoured the surrounding woods, swamps and marshes for traces of the missing man.

It was believed that his body was at the bottom of Lily Pond and plans were under way to search the pond, where he was found today in the Saugus barn loft at 440 Broadway.

Skahan, 25, is the husband of Mrs. Catherine Skahan and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Skahan of North Saugus.

Arlington Man Will Fight Deportation

George A. Douglas, counsel for William J. Clifford of Arlington, will file a brief in Federal Court Monday in a last effort to keep a letter from being deported to Ireland, to stand trial on charges of embezzling $600 while employed as tax collector in County Kerry. His case has been under consideration for several weeks.

MAN MISSING 9 DAYS IS FOUND

Suffering from exhaustion and lack of food, John Skahan of Dover st., Saugus, who nine days ago disappeared and was believed to have committed suicide, was today found in barn loft by Axel W. Anderson.

Skahan was placed under the care of Dr. George S. Parcher who held some hope for Skahan's recovery.

Weakened and starved, Skahan was in a state of collapse when Anderson who went to the barn for some hay, discovered his inert body. He notified the police and a physician.

Nine days ago when word of Skahan's disappearance was broadcast, more than 100 Lynn and Saugus Boy Scouts scoured the surrounding woods, swamps and marshes for traces of the missing man.

It was believed that his body was at the bottom of Lily Pond and plans were under way to search the pond, where he was found today in the Saugus barn loft at 440 Broadway.

Skahan, 25, is the husband of Mrs. Catherine Skahan and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Skahan of North Saugus.

Arlington Man Will Fight Deportation

George A. Douglas, counsel for William J. Clifford of Arlington, will file a brief in Federal Court Monday in a last effort to keep a letter from being deported to Ireland, to stand trial on charges of embezzling $600 while employed as tax collector in County Kerry. His case has been under consideration for several weeks.

Wellesley presents its "most outstanding" students of the year. They are Florence Harriman of Albany, N. Y., most athletic, Betty Grainger of New Rochelle, N. Y., most popular and most typical, and Lou Day, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., most feminine.

By Percy Crosby

NATIONAL THEATRE PRESENTS

CLARA BOW
"NO LIMITS"
Charles Dell Johnson
"THE SUNDAY"
GIFT WITE

Watch This Directory
And Patronize
Your Neighborhood
Theaters

N. POLICE CHIEF PROBES VICE CHARGE

Alleged statements in Salem court yesterday by Inspector John J. McLaughlin of the Lynn Police that Edward J. Lyons, a "bootlegger" parading and having other forms of vice brought against him today by his superior, Chief of Police James J. Board and Department Chief Edmond Callahan.

"If conditions are as McLaughlin says in Salem, why hasn't he notified his superior in the department?" Lyons called Lyons asked this morning. His response is hardly in keeping with his sworn duties as a police officer.

McLaughlin is alleged to have made the statements in the course of his testimony in the case of the arrest of Lyons in the Boston Police Court in the divorce suit of Mrs. Evelyn Maye Lyons against her husband, Walter Lyons.

Today he denied making the statements.

Attorney John Morgan, conducting Mrs. Lyons' case, said that McLaughlin must certainly deny that he had been and was rampant in Salem.

At the time he was in the case to present evidence that the arrest was an unlawful place for Lyons, he was not in the case. Mrs. Lyons refused to accept the testimony of the police.

Chief Board refused to say in his testimony that McLaughlin's statements were true.

At the time he was in the case to present evidence that the arrest was an unlawful place for Lyons, he was not in the case.

PAPERS BEST AD MEDIUMS

Julius J. Burnes, advertising manager of the Globe Trotter, said before a group of lawyers and members of Boston University's Committee of Business yesterday.

Burnes was graduated from Boston University in 1908.

"Considering it from every point of view, the newspaper is the most valuable medium for the small store. The newspaper is a part of the daily life of the people. No other class of publication is as indispensable as the newspaper. It enables the advertiser to address his prospective customers as he chooses."

"Aggressive newspaper advertising gives the possible chance to forget. If the weather or some other factor prevents the advertiser from a timely advertisement, he can do so and get it before the people in a few hours. This power of the newspaper to reach so many people daily makes it the mainstay of the advertiser's plan."

Five Held in N. Y.

as Bank Robbers

New York May 9 (AP)—Police were holding five hold men today as suspects in bank robberies in this city, New Jersey and Philadelphia.

Police inspectors from Philadelphia questioned the prisoners. Later they were joined by two men and a woman from Philadelphia who looked them over in the lineup at headquarters.

Rev. Dore's Condition Slightly Improved

The condition of the Rev. R. A. Dore, who has been at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for more than a week suffering from apoplexy, was said today to be slightly improved.

Further Dore was transferred recently from the hospital to the Church at Groton to St. Paul's at Wellesley. His illness is said to have been caused by a defective tooth.

Advises Students

Newspaper ads get best results for retail sellers, Julius J. Burnes, of the Globe Trotter, told business administration students at Boston University yesterday.

Evening American on the Air THE GLOBE TROTTER

A complete radio daily newspaper—65 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and special entertainment.
213 M.—STATION WAAB—1410 K. C.

7:45-8:00 A. M.—CITY EDITION OF THE AIR.
10:30-10:45 A. M.—SATURDAY, HIGH Noon, Wed. and Friday—Martha Lee's Homecoming Class.
12:00-12:15 P. M.—MID-DAY STOCK QUOTATIONS; NEWS.
12:15-12:30 P. M.—FEATURES.
2:30-2:45 P. M.—STATE STREET EDITION OF THE AIR.
2:45-3:00 P. M.—SPORTS FINAL EDITION OF THE AIR.
10:30-10:45 P. M.—NIGHT FINAL EDITION OF THE AIR.

Ten High Spots
8:00—WAAB—Sport Santa.
7:00—WAAB—Morton Downey.
7:00—WAAB—Tip O'Neill.
8:00—WEEI—Walter and Fields.
8:00—WEEI—Chronicles.
9:00—WEEI—General Electric.
8:30—WAAB—Radio Forum.
10:00—WAAB—Radio Forum.
10:00—WNAZ—Saturday Caboch.
10:30—WNAZ—Saturday review.

Boston Stations
Station WAB 1115
1200 WNAZ 14
1300 WEEI 24
1400 WEEI 24
1500 WEEI 24
1600 WEEI 24
1700 WEEI 24
1800 WEEI 24
1900 WEEI 24
2000 WEEI 24

Saturday, May 9

7:45-8:00 P. M.

WNAZ—Morton Downey.

WEEI—Broadway to New York.

WAB—Tany's Broadcast.

WNAZ—Saturday Nighters.

WAB—Song program.

WAB—Sport Santa.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

WEEI—Radio Forum.

Listening Post

NO END of homes is being put to Mother by orchestra and artists on the air tonight and tomorrow, according to advice received from every studio. Exactly as it should be. Anticipating (and) and all it brings, we dedicate the following in loving memory.

TOMORROW

Tomorrow, Tomorrow, it's coming I know.

What a Glorious Day it will be. Memorable of not long ago. Her cherished devotion to me.

Of the speaker, during the day.

Although many tear drops will fall.

"Mother" is probably all that'll say.

To a picture there on the wall.

Musical melodies now growing old.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

Let nothing your dearest day.

With recollections that yet hold fast me, like a diamond in the night.

Radio, radio, wonderful thing.

Make this day and like another.

Let orchestras play and vocalists sing.

Of the glory bringing to Mother.

Hurry tomorrow, hurry along.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOMEY PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

ANNOUNCES

the greatest coordination of news resources ever conceived!

NEWSPAPERS

RADIO

MOTION PICTURES

combine to create the super-newsreel

The world-wide news gathering and disseminating resources of these three powerful agencies have been bound together to bring to the screen an entirely new and advanced type of sound motion picture newsreel.

WITH WHICH IS INCORPORATED

THE GLOBE TROTTER

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)

RADIO VOICE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN

In this comprehensive coordination of news forces "The Globe Trotter" of the press and radio brings to the screen, in addition to the sound-recorded events of the newsreel, vivid verbal descriptions of other happenings as seen through the eyes of an expert news observer. Hearst Metrotone News is the one newsreel that combines all the power of modern science to bring news to the screen.

THE GLOBE TROTTER

"The GLOBE TROTTER" radio and film voice of the BOSTON AMERICAN. Broadcasts the most important and interesting news events daily over radio station WAAB at 7:45 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., 6:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m. Tune in on this invigorating period for the latest local and headline news of the world.

MARTHA LEE

Household Economist of the BOSTON AMERICAN

Broadcasts interesting recipes and information helpful to home makers.

Every Monday Wednesday and Friday at 10:30 A. M.

Over Station WAAB

A Boston American Feature

Look for the modern super-newsreel now showing at:

LOEW'S ORPHEUM LOEW'S STATE

SOON TO BE SHOWN AT

LOEW'S COLUMBIA LOEW'S FINE ARTS

STRAND (South Boston)

BIJOU

DISTRIBUTED BY METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

ST. TRADING

New York May 8.—(Continued from page 16.)

An abrupt decline in share prices appeared on the heels of the swift upturn late yesterday.

The relapse was similar to that which followed the violent advance of last week, but yesterday's advance and today's decline were of moderate proportions.

Trading was fairly active for the two-hour Saturday session, sales exceeding $1,000,000 by a substantial margin.

CASE IS WEAKER

F. J. Case was a weak feature, breaking more than 10 points to reach a price of 70. In contrast to the 1928 and 1929 peak prices above 100, today's bottom was the lowest since 1928.

The current decline reflected doubt over maintenance of the 85 annual dividend rate, but there was also said to be selling of a special note.

Automotive and Western Union dropped about 7 points, the latter to the lowest price in eight years, and losses of 5 to 6 points were fairly numerous at the close.

The trend was downward during most of the half-day session, although the first hour saw some temporary extension of the previous day's gains.

Some of the selling may have been in anticipation of a new monthly untitled tonnage report, which appeared when the market was cheap.

The actual report, in inflated business, amounting to 100,000 tons, was in line with estimates ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

It was pointed out that some strengthening of the market was expected, but the first hour saw some temporary extension of the previous day's gains.

Some of the selling may have been in anticipation of a new monthly untitled tonnage report, which appeared when the market was cheap.

The actual report, in inflated business, amounting to 100,000 tons, was in line with estimates ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

It was pointed out that some strengthening of the market was expected, but the first hour saw some temporary extension of the previous day's gains.

Some of the selling may have been in anticipation of a new monthly untitled tonnage report, which appeared when the market was cheap.

The actual report, in inflated business, amounting to 100,000 tons, was in line with estimates ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

It was pointed out that some strengthening of the market was expected, but the first hour saw some temporary extension of the previous day's gains.

Some of the selling may have been in anticipation of a new monthly untitled tonnage report, which appeared when the market was cheap.

The actual report, in inflated business, amounting to 100,000 tons, was in line with estimates ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

It was pointed out that some strengthening of the market was expected, but the first hour saw some temporary extension of the previous day's gains.

Some of the selling may have been in anticipation of a new monthly untitled tonnage report, which appeared when the market was cheap.

The actual report, in inflated business, amounting to 100,000 tons, was in line with estimates ranging from 75,000 to 100,000.

Announcements today, 1,500,000 shares
Week end, 1,300,000
Last week, 3,000,000

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

A		B		C		D		E		F
1900	1901	1900	1901	1900	1901	1900	1901	1900	1901	1900	1901
23	141	18.5	Adams Bros.	1000	153	151	151	151	151	151	151
23	141	18.5	Adv. Sumatra.	1000	153	151	151	151	151	151	151
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86	86	86	86	86
12	77	77	Am. Tobacco.	1200	831	86	86

